

PLEIADIAN KNOWLEDGE

THE TAYGETEAN CREW
OF THE TOLEKA MOTHERSHIP

This information is given by women and men from the star Taygeta, in the cluster of the Pleyades. They are different conversations kept live in writing over the internet and reorganized by theme. We keep their original text without any modification. They can be found in video format on YouTube, on the Pleiadian Knowledge channel of Cristina Álvarez and Estel·la Fernández.

Start date of the contact: 12th June 2020

Estel·la.- Hello everyone. Welcome to Pleiadian Knowledge. My partner is Cristina and I am Estel·la, and today we bring you a very special video where we are going to introduce you to all the members of the Taygetean race who are right now in orbit on the ship called Toлека here on Earth.

Cristina.- But before starting the video, we have some points that we want to clarify so that you can really understand the content of this video.

Estel·la.- We have prepared all the points here so as not to leave any. To begin with, all the terms, all the words, or the adjectives that you are going to see that they use to describe what they are, the positions they have, or the tasks they carry out, it must be said that they are not the exact meaning of what they really refer, because many times it is lost in translation and they are concepts that here we do not have on Earth, we do not contemplate them.

So, what they do is, they use the term that more or less would be the most similar, but that many times is very limited and is not able to transmit what it really is about and all that goes with that term. I am going to quote as they say: "This is so that you don't interpret us as being too human, if not, how else do you want us to describe who we are, and what positions we have, if we can't use those words?" This is a phrase from Aneeka of Temmer.

But the point is, this would have to be very logical and very easy to understand since it is clear that there has to be a mutual understanding so that knowledge can be passed on, and if it weren't this way, it would not be possible, and with this I do not mean that this happens only with the Spanish language, this happens with all the languages that we have here on this planet, because they are concepts that we do not use and therefore we do not have or know how to describe them.

Once this is clarified, you are going to see that during the video there are certain acronyms that they use to describe some groups or some categories, and I'm going to tell you now what exactly they mean, and also that these acronyms are made solely for human understanding and that they do not use it that way:

- CIC = Central Intelligence Command.
- HRH = Her Royal Highness.
- CAP = Combat Air Patrol.
- MD = Medical Doctor.
- SOG = Special Operations Group.

Cristina.- On the other hand, as we have said, these people are here in Earth's orbit in a spaceship. The ship is called Toлека and it is the first of its kind, Toлека class. And the ship orbits the Earth every 164 minutes, resulting in the crew being able to see a sunrise and a sunset every 82 minutes. This image that you are seeing on the screen is similar to the ship, but of course not the original.

About the ship, the latest data that we have and that we have already shared, is that it was at a height of the surface of 423.9 km and went at a speed of 7.9 km per second. This ship has a length of 1,734 meters, and has a capacity for 1,800 people, although now there are only 30 people. 28 Taygeteans, Yázhí and a human, but also 7 cats, 5 ferrets, 15 mog'yay and 3 otters.

Estel·la.- One of the classifications that you are going to see a lot is that of a Hashmallim. A Hashmallim is a male person who is highly trained, like what we would know here on Earth like the special forces or the Delta Force Navy Seals, among others. So, they are trained to enter enemy territory to carry out missions of high danger and importance, in survival and in escape and hide, among other things, such as demolition and counterterrorism.

Those who are now on the ship, some of them are also pilots, and they are the ones who are in charge of carrying out the support and maintenance tasks, that is, those who maintain everything running up there.

As you can see, it would be similar to a military man, but in truth it is not the same as what we understand the military we have here on Earth, like a Grade E of a human military. They are taught to obey orders, not to think, only to react, to never question, to obey everything, just obey everything blindly. So, it's just the military of a higher grade, or the officers, who are taught to give orders, but always following the rules and the chain of command.

Instead, a military from Taygeta is taught, first of all, ethics. Which is totally suppressed here for our military. They are taught to make their own decisions on the ground. To be the command and how to coordinate holographically with their own, using tips in the field, between them. Taking holographic decisions, and what that means is that they are in a way the result of a Council session between the members of the group, where the data is exposed and the facts and the best possible decision is made with the data they have in hand, that means, that they may be commissioned on a mission and once they get there and analyse the situation, they may decide not to carry it out.

It is clear that this entails a responsibility that they will have to face later, but they will not have to follow orders just because it's been said so. So, each Taygeta military is the one who already commands to be coordinated with others or alone. Has training to assess situations and take responsibilities for their actions and the best path to take for each circumstance without having to necessarily connect with the command centre when it is not possible.

Cristina.- Also clarify, that you will see that many of the people carry nicknames assigned by NORAD. For those of you who don't know what NORAD is, NORAD is the North American defence command. As Aneeka explains, NORAD follows the operations of our fighter vessels on radars. So, among the intercept planes of the United States Air Force they use those codes between them to refer when they identify one of our ships in their airspace.

So, the names assigned by NORAD, they are not names that come from them, most are code names assigned by the human military that they have assigned to identify the Taygetean ships. Only, in some cases, the human military has adopted their names. Here we return to the use of the human terminology. If you are flying in the sky, where there are human soldiers, the most logical thing to do to not cause conflict, is that you adapt to the rules they have in the airspace and for example identify with Taygetean names, from their own language, it is much more complicated than to use human terminology for better communication. And it may seem that everything has a militarized tinge, but as Anéeka says: "This is a mission under Taygeta's military jurisdiction, we are not a yacht on vacation." Thus, as Estel·la has already explained, the military and how it works, differs a lot about how we know that a military man is here on Earth.

Estel-la.- Another important point is that you are going to see that there are many of them who say how old they are, but do not say the exact date of birth, or many others who simply say don't have a calculated age. So you can understand this, how can it be like this, basically it is that the only person who has been born on Earth who is on the ship now with them, is Suriko. She is the only person who really has her birth date calculated. In Taygeta they do not do it that way, nor do they celebrate birthdays as we do here on Earth.

So, now we are going to do the calculation they have to do to try to have a comparison of the years they would have as we understand it here on Earth. And what they do is that they take a star date from the position of the stars which is how they originally calculate it and compare it with the terrestrial dates, but it is complicated because there is a time slip between the Earth and between the Taygeta planets, since each year they move away from each other increasing the temporary slippage.

Towards the year 1990, the time slip between Earth and the Taygeta planets was 2 days per one in Taygeta. In 2010 it was 2.6 days on Earth for one in Taygeta, and today there are 4.6 days spent on Earth for one in Taygeta. That is, they spend a day and here it's halfway through the week. So, what they do is they calculate it mathematically and it comes out a particular date, but sometimes only the year is known, like many of them who only say approximately the age, and other times other people who have taken the trouble to calculate it more exactly to get all the data and a more precise date.

Having said that, you are going to see that many of them would be considered very young because there is an average in between 20 and 30 years, but this is very, very different from what we understand here, and that's because they begin remembering their past lives from approximately at 13 years, that is, with this they recover much knowledge and experiences that they have had in other lives and it already makes them act in a very different way. Also, keep in mind that these people, the younger people, are the ones in search of more action, of wanting to do something with their life, of exploring and experiment, and that is why they are also the ones here assisting in this situation on Earth.

On the other hand, people who may already be 300 or 500 years old and who have already done it before, now want to live more quietly, to sit on their home planet or on another and take a quieter life. So, this also justifies why all the crew that you are going to see, they are mostly of a fairly young calculated age. And remember that they can live up to approximately 900 years. The woman's body reaches maturity at approximately 23 years of age and the man at 25 years of age and from there, the body is kept for what may be several hundred years, and only after much more time will begin to reflect a little more age in their biological body.

Cristina.- And, finally, clarify that this information has been provided to us by Aneeka of Temmer. That the images that you are going to see below do not represent these people, they are simply images taken from the internet in which some of them Aneeka has helped us to find images similar to them. There is only one real image. So, they are not real images, it is important to clarify this and although it may seem that they are all idyllic, that is not reality. They are simply healthier, eat without toxins, have a holistic diet based on medicine and, in addition their medical science is far more advanced than ours. And, finally, also the voices you are going to hear are ours and for the female team and male team have participated several human men and women, to do the voices.

Cristina.- Before continuing with the women's team, we would like to also clarify a couple of points. First, explain what a Shinonim is. Shinonim is the same as a Hashmallim, but in feminine, with the only addition that they are royal guards, that is, these people are always close to Alenym and Nai'Shara. And the second point that we would like to clarify, is about the royalty of Taygeta. We know this can cause confusion for people who do not know how Taygetean royalty is or how it works. First of all, tell you that it has nothing, absolutely nothing to do with the royalty as we know it here, that is, human royalty. They have a holographic society, a society structured by Councils, and these Councils are the same people. The queen does not rule over the people either, to be the queen in Taygeta means to be a role model to follow, she would be like the representative of the people. A person with a lot of wisdom and she is only queen if she is able to merit her position, and it is the High Council of Taygeta who validates her. The queen does not exploit the people, nor does she have more than the other people, because in their society all citizens can have the same as the queen. These were the points we wanted to clarify, so we can now start with the female team:

Cristina.- All the training and all the knowledge that the Taygetean team has is very impressive and before we finish, we would like to leave you with a message from Aneeka of Temmer that we believe is important:

“Those qualifications or attributes of the people on the ship, you down there have them too, I mean you and other people. Like this or more. You just don't remember it, but that is why you are on Earth, because you are qualified. We are all old souls with many adventures behind. It's just the ones I listed in the crew, is because they remember, because they are in the 5D. But where you are does not mean you have less qualifications or capabilities. Totally the opposite. It is always said here that those who are working down there have more merit than those from above. Although in defense of those of us above in orbit, it is not a “garden of roses” here. We have our difficulties on a daily basis, and in general it is difficult. We are all fighting for what we know within ourselves to be the right thing to do.”

Cristina.- Here we end this video. I hope it has been of interest to you, it made us very excited to get to know more about all the people who make up the Taygetean team now, so we hope you enjoyed it as much as we did.

Estel·la.- Thank you all for listening and for always being there and we will see you in the following videos.
