In this live we will explain the history of the Moon, we will talk in more detail about its hologram, the current state of the reactors and the impact that this gigantic ship produces on our biology. We will also share some very approximate CGI images of how it really looks.

"This information is provided by extraterrestrial persons, women and men from the Taygeta star in the Pleiades cluster, through a written contact with us."

DIRECT WITH CRISTINA & ESTEL·LA

Estel·la.- Hello everyone. Welcome to Pleiadian Knowledge.

Cristina.- Thank you for being here once more. Today we have some very interesting information. We will talk about the Moon. The ship of the Moon, as you know. And tell you that we have enough information. So we will divide everything into three parts with two little breaks in between. We will be reading to you and answering questions, as long as we know it, of course. You already know that the information is not ours and we do not know everything. What we are going to discuss today is to explain a little about the Lunar hologram. A few more details. Also, show you some images that Anéeka of Temmer has provided us, which are CGI images, about approximately how the lunar surface or the Moon really looks. And also, very interesting information from Yázhi Swarúu that explains how the Moon interferes, in some way, with terrestrial biology. And many more details, we do not want to spoil it. So we are going to continue reading to you a little and now we will begin.

Estel-la.- Yes. I think we already started with the presentation. We start with the first part: The ship that is the Moon.

PART 1 - THE SHIP THAT IS THE MOON

This first part is information from Anéeka of Temmer. Anéeka explained to us that the Moon is a hologram and how it really looks is like the images that we are going to present to you now that are CGI. She passed them to us so that we could get an idea of what the Moon really looks like and how they see it. This image passed to us:

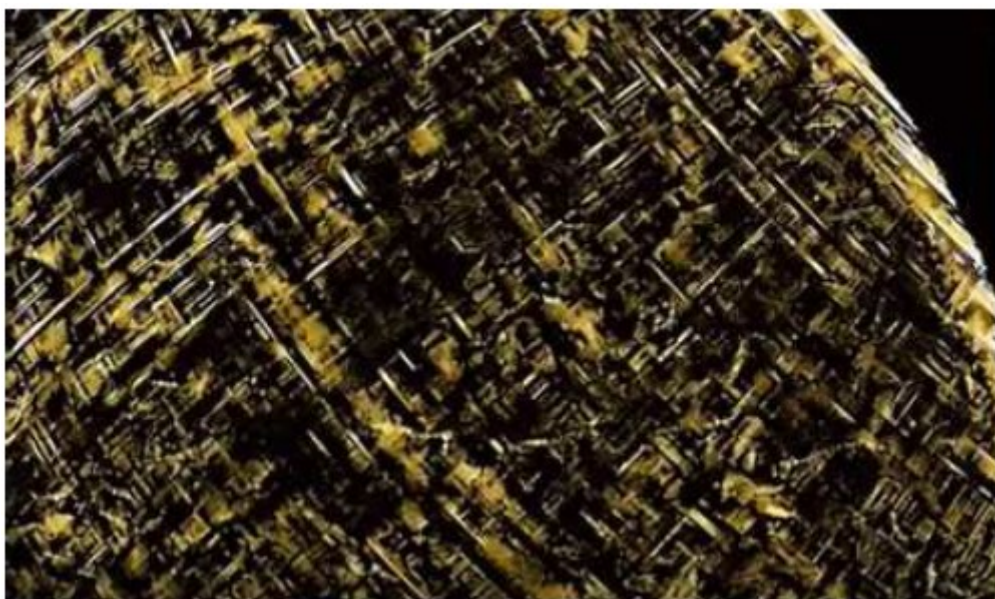

As you can see here:

In this you can see more detail that there are like structures on the surface of the Moon. But you will see that she is going to explain to us that it is not that there are constructions, but that it is the ship itself. Because it really is a spaceship, it is a metal ball. She sent us this image, too:

And these other two:

As you can see, it differs a lot with the images that are presented to us through NASA and everything that is published. You can see in the background the Moon that they show us and how it really looks later. We asked Anéeka what these images were and if they were CGI and whose they were. She explained to us: It is what the Russians know. They insist that they are CGI images, but that is what it looks like. And she says: "It's sad that they give you another idea. They hide the truth because it bothers them."

So, we ask her: Are these images the external structure? And she explained herself:

"Yes. It has several internal levels like an onion. Towards the center are the engineering and life support systems with the reactor at the center. It is a huge ship. They sell that as romantic, but it is a metal ball in disguise."

Cristina.- Here we ask Anéeka: "And why does it have that effect? Because of the material used?"

Anéeka replied: "Because it has all kinds of buildings on the surface for countless uses. As if it were an entire city that covers its surface. But they are not constructions. It is part of the hull of the Lunar ship."

As Estel·la has already told you, while I was showing you the CGI images, it is not that there really is nothing there on the surface like cities or something like that, but that it is part of the hull of the ship. And here we wanted to tell you about the name of the Moon, which is information that we had already published on the channel in the video of The Viera Andromedana, in the first part of the series of 3 videos.

Here Estel·la asked Anéeka: "What is the original name of the ship that makes Luna?"

And Anéeka answered us: "It's Creiddylad."

Estel·la asked her: "Does it have any meaning?" She believed it to be Andromedan.

And Anéeka replied: "Yes. It is Andromedan. Translated into phonemes. On Earth playing a Welsh Goddess. That goddess sure is connected to Diana. Wales, Ireland and Scotland have strong links to Predynastic Egypt and to Atlantis, hence the names. Diana is one of the names for the Moon. Creiddylad also known as: Creurdilad, Creudylad or Kreiddylat, daughter of King Lludd. He is a secondary character in the medieval Welsh tale; Culhwch ac Olwen. The oldest Arthurian tale. Diana equals Roman goddess of the Moon."

- Creiddylad.
- Es Andromedano.
- Diosa Galesa.
- Creirddylad, Creurdilad, Creudylad o Kreiddylat, hija del rey Lludd.
- Personaje en cuento medieval galés; Culhwch ac Olwen.

We are going to take a little break and we are going to read you in the chat.

Estel-la.- These details that we have given so far were a bit to focus people. To do a little introduction. They had already been shared by our colleagues Robert and Gosia. Now we will see if you have any questions about this and then we will continue with the rest.

Cristina.- Question from a follower: “In other words, the Moon is like the Death Star in Star Wars.” Yes. Robert and Gosia had shared before that it looks a lot like the Death Star. Simply without the slit and part that goes inwards like a very large circle, as this would not have it.

Estel-la.- A follower says: “Are images of structures real?”
Not the images that we have shown you, they are CGI, but this is what it looks like.

Cristina.- A follower asks: “So, have the Chinese also lied that they have traveled to the dark side?” I assume you mean the hidden side of the Moon. Or if they know what there was and do not give the real information? As far as we have known for a few years now, you cannot go there. That is, there is no one who goes to the Moon. I think that in the secret space program they did go, but that’s why they didn’t go back. And indeed all the images that we can see from NASA from both the Moon and Mars are false.

Estel·la.- A follower continues: “Does anyone live on the Moon?”

No. It is uninhabited. There is no one living there.

Cristina.- If you see that we do not answer some questions, it is because what you are asking will be discussed a little later. We follow Estel·la because I see that most of the questions are from the information that comes now.

Estel·la.- Cristina asked Yázhi: Is it true that the Moon is moving away from the Earth every year? Who controls the lunar orbit?

And Yázhi explained to us: “It may be true or appear to be. It is a ship. As with all ships, you have to correct orbit every so often, either towards Earth or away from it. The Lunar orbit is under the control of the Federation on the part of the Arcturians and Dieslientiplex and for 2 years now, to be exact. Before that it was under the control of Taygeta, and before that it was under the control of Centauri, but always Federation ”.

Cristina.- Here we ask Yázhi: “What role did the moon ship play in the battle of Tiamat? Why was it so destroyed?”

And Yázhi explains: “It was one of the Federation and Andromedan sphere ships. Main bases from where Federation ships operated, as does the Viera nowadays, which is also Andromedan, only that being smaller it is an arrowhead type and not a spherical one. During the battle for Tiamat it was the main strategic target. It received multiple hits from different classes of weapons, including ionizing nukes which made it too difficult to repair and clean. The cost of lives during that was very great as well. As the Moon is large, it is habitable by areas, but always remembering that it is a 100% artificial structure like layers of onion inside. That is to say, one spherical cover inside another until reaching the nucleus. Where the main reactors are. There are other small ones closer to the surface, but they have not been used for a long time.”

For those of you who are new or do not know a little about what we are talking about, when we talk about the battle of Tiamat we talk about the Orion Wars that we also have a series that by the way, we are going to continue and that we are already working on the following videos, and it was a battle that took place in our solar system like this, very briefly, where there was a planet here that we no longer have that was called Tiamat and it was entirely an aquatic planet made up of small islands. This battle occurred approximately 12,500 years ago. There was a battle there. The planet got destabilized because of the different bombs and all of this, and it exploded, let's say and the Moon that we have here, the ship, was in that battle. It was very destroyed as Yázhi is explaining here and then it was reused to put it here to project the Van Allen bands and the hologram. I'll explain a little bit in case you didn't know what we were talking about.

Estel·la.- So, here Yázhi continued explaining to us that there is a lot of evidence that this is the case and that the Moon is a hologram. And she told us:

“I know that it is pushing the credibility of the people about the hologram that covers the Moon, making it look natural. I know it is sad and difficult to understand from someone's position deep within that Matrix, but it is the truth. And already some astronomers have noticed the presence of a hologram. To say that it is not there is to deny the studies of these astronomers more than anything amateur because the officials, all, and I mean all, are controlled by the Vatican. Every large telescope on Earth in one way or another is controlled by the Illuminati Jesuits. Continuing to believe that the Moon is a natural satellite is just ignorance. You can investigate this from Earth, they do not have to take it by faith. The Moon is not what it seems. I know it's annoying, but it's the truth.”

And here Cristina commented that she herself had seen that many astronomers said that the orbit of the Moon was strange for a natural satellite. And that there were people who detected changes in the lunar surface such as craters that disappeared and other and different studies appeared that said it was hollow and things like that. In other words, there is a lot of information on the net. We know that they play with this precisely in that this is a sea of misinformation that people can super easily enter into cognitive dissonance, and do not have the ability to be able to discern for themselves which part may be true and which part may not be. Yes it is true that there is a lot of information about this and if someone is interested they can find details. So, here Yázhi continued to explain:

"Sure, its orbit is set there. It is a ship, it does not obey the same dynamics of a natural Moon because it does not have balance. It should fall or go out of orbit and that it does, but it corrects in orbit like any ship, as that is what it is. On the far side, for me that is just something circumstantial because the Moon is rotating, slowly, but yes. What happens is that regardless of whether it rotates or not, what you always see is the same hologram. So, it seems that there is a hidden side. I've seen NASA photos of the cratered far side as if it had been stuck hard there on that side and not from the front. But those NASA photos are just plain fake. It is a fantasy. The hologram does not cover the entire lunar sphere, only the part facing the Earth. The back looks like what it is, a metal ball. As extra data, from here in low orbit, we see the Moon as you do, we see the hologram. But as we zoom out we see that it is the hologram. If we see it from the side, we see the details of the surface that they know, but distorted and if we see the Moon completely in profile compared to how it is seen from the Earth, a luminous layer is clearly seen in front of it and that only covers the part visible from the earth".

As a detail here, they tell you that the ship they are on, is around 400/500 km (orbit), and that is why they are within what would be the influence of the Moon, and that is why they tell us that they see it that way. But if they move they can clearly see what it really is.

Cristina.- Here we ask Yázhi: And what technology is present on the Moon? What facilities does it have on the surface and in the center? And Yázhi explains:

"The technology present there is old and collapsing due to lack of maintenance. They are not above-ground installations. In itself, that concept still confers the idea that it has a natural surface on which to build something, a base, a building. The entire surface and interior Moon is a construction in itself. It will only have outstanding things like something, like tall buildings. There are. Sometimes they are seen above the hologram. The technology is from the Tiamat era, and earlier. Very outdated compared to what the Andromedans have today. It consisted of 12 old ionizing reactors, of which 4 work and malfunction and I think fewer than those four today. Powering the generators of the Van Allen belts and the hologram. The hologram is physically generated by a series of lenses on the lunar surface, not from a single point where the image is generated or formed by means of tiles or as a collage of images. In other words, it is not a single hologram. It is a composite of many smaller holograms."

We saw in the chat that you asked if there were more ships like the Moon here. Explain that the Andromedans have several types of Biosphere ship. For example, the Viera Andromedana is not spherical, but rather a ship with an arrowhead. This ship is parked just behind the Moon and is very large. I don't know if you remember Estel·la if Anéeka has ever told us if there is a round biosphere ship, I don't know if there is on Saturn ...

Estel·la.- She explained to us that there were many on Saturn. But in orbit here on Earth ... if the biosphere is like the Moon ... I can't say.

Cristina.- Yes. I think that, if we remember correctly, she told us that round biospheres are only on Saturn. The others, Andromedana would see it, which is the one that is the Moon, the Varena that is the one that is in Venus, both are shaped like an arrowhead.

Estel·la.- So, here we asked Yázhí: The range of influence of the hologram projected by the Moon was like the one you are seeing in this image. And Yázhí who explained to us: "Yes. So so. Because, more or less? Earth, like any other planet, has a magnetosphere. Interaction with a source of magnetic energy, the Moon in this case, with an exact frequency designed on purpose alters the total output frequency of the magnetosphere. So, it is the Earth itself that is providing the energy for the Van Allen belts."

So, here I asked her what: So, the hologram that is projected by the Moon was also from behind. That is, toroidal like the one you see in the image.

And she told us: "The torus in the image controls the torus of the Earth's magnetosphere. However, the projection of energy from the Moon is more direct as illuminating the magnetosphere with a beam of light like a lamp not only with a torus as in the image. The Moon is 360,000 km away, far enough to project well and cover the entire magnetosphere. That is, as Yázhí explains to us that there are several reactors that are projecting just above the Earth.

Cristina.- And here Yázhí tells us a little more about the Van Allen belts: Important note: Earth is the only planet with Van Allen belts, but people claim this as not true. What happens is that the magnetosphere is confused with the Van Allen belts. This is important because the Van Allen belts are formed from the base magnetosphere as I have described above. But they are not the magnetosphere. The difference is that the amount of energy measured in radiation is much greater in the Van Allen belts and of energy or force too great for planet Earth. That is, the Van Allen belts give off or are compounds of ionizing radiation energy highly dangerous to biology, and with that forming an etheric barrier that prevents them from leaving the Earth in low-tech ships. While the bands formed naturally by the magnetosphere, whether they are from Earth or other planets, are made up of electromagnetic radiation that is not so dangerous to life. It is not completely harmless either, but nothing compared to ionizing radiation."

And here she explains a little about the differences between the magnetosphere and the Van Allen belts on this energy. And Yázhí says:

“Ionizing radiation means that it is giving off particles that ionize the matter that comes into contact with it, changing its atomic structure. Damaging everything. They can see the particles of ionizing radiation as little bullets from all directions destroying the matter, tissue, cells, and DNA in them. It is the type of radiation also known as nuclear or from classic radioactive heavy metals such as plutonium, uranium, strontium and derivatives. Plutonium is derived from uranium, but hey. Instead, magnetic radiation is basically the result of a flux in an electric current. To get past these Van Allen belts they need high-tech, density-shifting craft, not rocket ships. That does not happen for the belts. From pure nuclear physics it is known that the Apollo missions are a lie. They say that what happens is that they came out through the poles where the radiation is not so strong because it is a torus. True, they are less strong there, but still extremely deadly. It does not solve the problem by leaving the poles and the orbit and exit trajectory of the Apollo spacecraft is Equatorial, not polar. So no, not that either. They are just lies from NASA. ”

And here Estel·la commented: But then they move through portals. Since, as you know, we know that the cabal leaves the Earth through portals.

And Yázhi answers: "That's how it is. With a portal, you can skip the Van Allen belts ”.

And Estel·la comments: So I think the function of the Moon is not very useful.

And Yázhi answers: "Still hollow and artificial metal it does have a lot of mass that is creating or helping to create the effect of tides on Earth."

Well, up to here we take a little break. Let's read you in the chat.

Estel·la.- Yes. I have seen someone who asked that it was dangerous to approach the Moon as Robert and Gosia had said. And here's another person who asks: “Will there be bugs like Lurkers on the Moon?”

And, as Yázhi was explaining to us, this ship was present during some very big wars. The remains of what could be left in there are many things, apart from the remains of weapons, ionizing energy and the dead, because there were people watching there and there may be many deaths. That is to say, it really was not a pleasant space to go there to visit.

Cristina.- I think that, mainly the reason is that, as Yázhi explained before, that everything is collapsing and it is really dangerous. When something is unstable it is dangerous to access this.

Estel·la.- A follower asks: Is the hologram going to dissolve at some point? We will answer this at the end.

Cristina.- A follower asks: “Is ionizing radiation scalar? Does it affect other dimensions?”

Yes. It had been commented before, we have not asked it personally, but I do not know if it was Robert or Gosia who had commented that yes, that ionizing radiation is scalar, nuclear energy, that is to say.

Estel·la.- We were very surprised when Yázhi explained this detail to us. Because they are even projecting waves that are harmful to our biology. I mean, it seems that here at the end we have the 5G waves, the microwaves, all the poison in the food ... and well it seems that what is happening now was only the end of the last straw.

Cristina.- A follower asks: “Have you seen the failures of the hologram? They are horizontal lines that run through it. A user with a telescope recorded it and uploaded it to YouTube. It looks perfect.” Yes, we have seen many good amateur videos where they saw faults and even structures that are seen through the hologram.

Estel·la.- A follower asks: “What is positive about the Moon, then?”

I think there is very little positive about it. At the time it was implemented, maybe it was helpful, because as you know the main reason was to try to control the traffic that there was by other races, and that those who did not have a minimum level of technology could not be entering and leaving the planet. But today, as we have commented, these other more regressive races make these jumps through portals. So, the function that Luna does now, if it is a lot or not, or positive, I think everyone decides.

Cristina.- Question from a follower: "The function of the Moon is to move the waters of the planet and of human circulation."

I think the main function is to reduce the Earth, which was in the fifth density, and reduce it in its day to a third density so that no one could get out of there. Like a kind of prison, let's say, but at the level of densities. And this was their main objective since when all this happened 12,500 years ago there were very strong wars. The Federation was very weakened and at that time, we imagine, that it was the best option they had on the table to try to control the situation. But today seen what is seen does not seem to have really helped, or is helping.

Estel·la.- A follower asks: "If the Moon is destroyed or removed, will there be a cataclysm on Earth?"

The Taygeteans explained to us that as the Moon is projecting these dominant frequencies from planet Earth, if right now it were removed suddenly, it would produce a change in the planet and probably that the poles were reversed. And yes there were many disasters. So, now at the end we are going to answer this question about what is or what will happen to the Moon, but it is best that it be a gradual process.

Cristina.- Yes. Because think that what the Moon is doing is exerting force on the planet's molecular matter. That is, it is as if compressing it, as if we were taking a cork and submerging it under water. The same cork would try to make the force to rise, but we would exert more pressure and we would keep it submerged, because the same is what is happening with these Van Allen belts, they are compressing the matter, so I do not know to what extent, we do not have the details, or if now this has changed or not because the Earth is ascending in some way, it will be suddenly released or it will be suddenly removed it may be that it will cause or in its day could have caused some damage at the level of biology, tidal waves and earthquakes and things like that.

Estel·la.- A follower asks: "Is the hologram of the Moon just an image or is it also physical?"

On the one hand, it is only a hologram because as you can see the Taygeteans and the other races are out of reach, they see it as it is, a metal ball. And they go there and it is a ship itself, they are not seeing the projected hologram of the craters or anything all this. But it is true that the hologram that they project here on Earth as Matrix buildings and people are totally palpable for us. For us it is our reality, although deep down this is a program and a hologram.

Cristina.- A follower says: "Thank you very much for the information. It is very interesting. I am listening very carefully and my daughters of 10 and 16 years are very interested in what you transmit. Thanks. Thank you very much for listening."

Estel·la.- Well, if it sounds like Cristina, let's go with the last part? I have seen that there were several women just asking about this. Well, we also asked Yázhi: What influence does the Moon have in women? And why? And Yázhi explained to us:

"The reason is that the biology of women is closely linked to the influences of subtle magnetic energies. The Moon among its frequencies that it transmits because, it is not only one frequency, but there are many, it seems or there is evidence that suggests that it is transmitting in the exact frequency that influences the reproductive biology of women. In environments without the Moon, it is mainly the woman's own energy, her aura or body magnetic torus, which determines and controls her cycles. But on Earth those frequencies are working as a control metronome and how this energy is stronger than the aura or interferes with the aura of the woman overrides or controls the reproductive rhythm. In places where there are many women in proximity, they have a tendency to hormonally, and also by frequencies, equalize the time of their periods. The hormonal aspect here is more evident with how it works than the more subtle energies, but they are there. So, in short, the Moon transmits destructive, or controlled frequencies, put there specifically to control human female biology. By taking away the possibility of control of their own reproduction only by their own control or mental force, which is how many women of other Lyrian races outside the Earth do it, including the Taygeteans."

So, everything that Yázhi explained to us resonated a lot to me and I thanked her a lot because this is something that intrigued me because it always bothered me that they show us this relationship as if it were something mystical or something special about women with the Moon and always as we are connected to the Moon and the tides and we go together and to me it was something like I didn't quite understand why, and I didn't like it. Then, Yázhi told us:

"Yes. It is in fact a slavery relationship. The one that women are supposed to control by right with their minds, but on Earth they are still controlled there. The Lyrian woman controls her fertility with her mind. It is something that is learned. Not all of them do it when they are young, but over time they do."

So I told her that it made a lot more sense for it to be this way. And that they do not always show us that we have to be governed by things that are external to us.

Cristina.- A follower asks: "Does it only influence women?"

I do not think so. Of course not. The Moon absolutely influences all terrestrial biology. We simply ask specifically about this because menstruation, childbirth, pregnancy is something very common that is very much linked to the Moon, even the growth of nails, hair. And we ask this as women, but of course it influences absolutely everything.

Estel-la.- Yes. And also, it greatly influences the cycles of animals and plants, but we were interested in this aspect more than anything because of the reproductive aspect. And here Yázhi told us something very interesting. She compared the image that they present to us and that is sold to the public of the Moon against that of the Sun. And she tells us:

"The Moon will be (shown as) romantic, but the truth is that it is something very dark, unfair and invasive. The Moon is not good for humans. Enlightenment is known to come most easily by meditating on a new moon or during an eclipse because that is when the destructive lunar influence is at its lowest. It is said that Buddha achieved enlightenment during a lunar eclipse. On the other hand, they say on Earth that the Sun is bad, that it produces cancer, that it leaves you blind, that it produces global warming, that it is about to eliminate everyone with a 'Solar Flare' or with a magnetic pulse. And they don't say anything about the Moon. There is nothing wrong with the Sun. Nothing happens to it. And it is the beneficial one. Exposure to the Sun feeds the cells, restores them, gives subtle energies of DNA activation and with it healing and also development of extrasensory actions. Everything in excess is bad. Yes. Too much sun burns. It's just not overdoing it. But the sun is good here, that's why they try to cover it with chemtrails. They tell them to use cancer-causing sunscreens and that it is bad to be in the sun."

We liked this point a lot because, as you know, they always try to sell us something to hide the rest, and it is true that there is a lot of propaganda about the sun, as you have commented with sun creams and everything, and then they actually sell us the relationship with the Moon as something beautiful and it ends up being detrimental to us. The same would happen with the planets that are always presented to us like Saturn.

Cristina.- And, finally, we ask Yázhi: Do you plan to remove the Moon at some point? Or shut down the rest of the reactors that remain? And Yázhi answered:

"I have never heard of the removal of the Moon. However, sooner or later I do see it as viable or necessary because it is a lot of work to keep it in artificially stable orbit. Shut down the reactors if not done in a short time. A few decades at the most. Anyway, they will stop working. That technology is falling apart over the years. "

So at the moment it seems that there is no plan to remove the ship. But it is true that Yázhi had already explained that the issue of reactors is they are already very weakened and in itself that field is increasingly weaker. But that the problem was not the field itself. Keeping ourselves in 3D is no longer because of the reactors, practically, but it is because of the human mentality that, as the Taygeteans have already explained, in the end everything is mind and we are the creators, and no matter how much the Moon retired and left. If they turn off the reactors and if we continue to have the same mentality there will be no change for human society whether or not there is a Moon.

Estel·la.- This is all we had prepared for today. With this we finish the presentation. And now let's see if you have any questions left.

Cristina.- Question from a follower: "If the Moon is 360,000 km from Earth, is that related to the number of days in a year? Would the duration of a year be different if there were no lunar Matrix?" I don't remember having covered that specific topic. Yázhi and Anéeka had explained to us that time does not exist as we believe, but that it is the perception of consciousnesses. That is, consciousnesses experience a specific time by agreements between themselves. That is, the duration of a day, as you live the entire day, or the days it takes for the Earth to orbit our star, the Sun, can vary by race since each race experiences time with its own. That is, humans will experience that it takes us 365 days to go around the Sun, while other races will experience it differently. Maybe longer or less time. Time cannot be measured or calculated as we believe here.

A follower asks: "So, what relationship do emotions have with the Moon?"

Estel·la.- They are influenced. As Yázhi explained to us, it is easier to reach a higher state of consciousness when there is less influence from the Moon. So, as they are destructive frequencies that they are constantly sending us and we know that it works because of the dominant frequency, it affects us, it does affect us and we can feel a little more destabilized in that sense.

Cristina.- Think that, if it is capable of moving the sea, what is it capable of doing in all living organisms.

Estel·la.- A follower says: "That is to say that in a few decades, we will no longer see the Moon?" We cannot say what is going to happen in the next few years, because we cannot predict it. They have not given us dates either. As Yázhi told us, she has not heard that they are going to withdraw it. It is true that over time, and naturally and as it is very old technology, reactors stop working by themselves. If that moment comes that they are already totally obsolete, then I suppose that then they should see what they do with the metal ball.

Cristina.- A follower says: "How is the team from Taygeta? Does the Moon influence them?" Well, not that we know. They are not influenced by the Van Allen belts because the ships have their own density. That is, the ships create their density within, then it does not affect them. What happens to Taygeta, to the team that is here or to any other extraterrestrial that is here, what affects them is the mind. That is to say that, although the ships are protected in their own density, the fact of being focused on the Earth, on the Earth's problems, on what is happening, that creates the so-called extraterrestrial evil, which is a dissonance of frequencies, because your physical body is at a frequency, instead you are taking the mind to a frequency that is not the natural one for your body, and that makes you sick.

Estel·la.- A follower says: "Thank you very much girls. Also to Taygeta, Yázhi for this detailed knowledge."

Cristina.- A follower says: "Then, it would be better to meditate on an afternoon with a warm sun and not a full moon. Yes. Although, it was the full Moon and the eclipses that affected the least?"

Estel·la.- The full moon would be when there is more influence. It would be the new moon when not. A follower asks: "Who exactly maintains the Moon?"

Right now it is the Arcturian race, Dieslientiplex, who are also part of the Federation and now they are in charge of maintaining the orbit of the Moon, its operation, and other aspects related to it.

Cristina.- A follower asks: "Previous greeting. Don't you think it would help the awakening of humanity to disconnect the hologram?"

As we have said before, at the level to which humanity is mentally submerged, I believe that the effects would be practically nil to disconnect the Moon. Since people are very immersed in their own Matrix and would continue to reproduce this Matrix whether or not there is the Moon.

Estel·la.- Yes, because here there is a very important factor that Taygeteans have been explaining, which is the collective unconscious. And it is from there where everything is governed, and everything that we perceive as reality.

Cristina.- A follower says: "Are there bugs on the Moon?"

We do not know.

Estel·la.- A follower asks: "When did you discover that the Moon was artificial?"

Cristina.- I did not know that it was a ship exactly, I really discovered this with Robert and Gosia when we were following the disclosure, but I did see strange things for many years. Researchers who followed because there were people who said that suddenly a crater had appeared and the next day it was gone. So, it cannot be, you already know that craters cannot be erased that way in any case another crater will come, another meteorite will fall and mould the previous one, but it cannot be that there was a crater last week and the surface is flat because that it didn't make any sense. So, yes, I had already seen a lot of research by many amateur astronomers who said that this is a very strange thing. Then also in photographs and videos that circulated around that you know that they are later censored and erased, but hey, sometimes you catch them the moment they have been uploaded, how they looked, as sharp structures, as if in the Moon would really have something built there. So, of course I suspected that there was something built there or there was something strange. But it is true that I also saw a researcher who claimed that with infrared, I do not remember what it was with, that they had done an investigation, and it looked hollow as if it were not a compact mass like what would be a piece of rock, but like that, hollow pieces were seen inside more similar to what would be a metallic surface or something like that. And of these things years and years ago that I found many things. So, already I suspected that it wasn't all natural, but I didn't know it was a ship either, as Taygeteans explained.

Estel·la.- I personally, also discovered it in detail through the information of the Taygeteans. But it is true that I began to question myself, through what Cristina explained to me. From the research she had done and from there I began to see my own things and as Yázhí said the information is there. Perhaps not as detailed, to the millimeter as the Taygeteans tell us that everything they provide us is incredible, but there is a lot of data. And since I have also seen someone who commented in Chat before, they said that there are records of previous civilizations that said that there was no Moon before and that is also true. There's a lot of information.

Cristina.- Yes, it's true. It is true that there are many ancient records in which the Moon does not appear. A follower says: "How is the Moon kept in stable orbit?"
Well I imagine that like any other ship it is parked. That is, it goes at a speed, but you know that the fields attract each other, so it is like the orbit is changing and you have to correct it and reposition it. And this is what Yázhí explained that the Arcturians are doing.

Estel·la.- A follower asks: "Girls, does the Moon redirect to Earth frequencies sent from Saturn?"
That we don't know. The only thing the Moon does is create these frequencies projected to the Earth, but as Yázhí explained to us, it is the Earth itself that gives the energy so that this hologram can be projected on top of it. But it's not like it has to pick up any other frequency from Saturn or anything like that. Remember that planet Earth is the only planet with the Van Allen belts.

Cristina.- A follower says: "Conclusion, our scientists are in diapers, and others are liars for omitting the truth. Thank you Yázhí for teaching us about the truth of the entire Universe."
Yes it is true that our science is in its infancy, but I really believe that we have many researchers, and many very good astronomers, and that they have really discovered many things, but not only this but in all fields, but they are not allowed to advance. So I do not know if it is that science is in diapers or if it really is not but that they keep it that way.

Estel·la.- The problem is censorship. There are always people who are interested in going much further than what is presented to us. But the problem is that they don't let it get to the people. All official studios are controlled by the Vatican and all large observatories by the Jesuits. So, of course, there are people who do other studies, try to represent other points of view, but as always it is annulled or is disqualified so that it cannot reach people.

A follower asks: "Could the Moon be used to raise the level of planetary vibration?"
Yes. Just as it is now being used to keep it lower, I think the opposite effect could be done. If it projected higher frequencies then it would influence us the same, and it could help a little to raise the Planetary Frequency.

Cristina.- A follower says: "On YouTube there are videos showing waves from the hologram."
Yes.

A follower asks: "Girls, do you know how high the Van Allen belts are and if you don't know, could you ask Anéeka? Thanks."

I think you can find this on the Robert and Gosia channels.

Estel·la.- If I am not mistaken, as a reference, it is that since it is confused with the magnetosphere, I would say that it is at the same height. What I don't know is to say how much that is.

Cristina.- A follower says: "Thank you for such fantastic information. Thanks to our star sisters. Greetings from Ecuador."

Thank you very much for your support.

A follower says: "Those of us who are awake will one day be able to see the true metallic face of the Moon?"

Let's hope so. I think it's something that all of us who are still here would like very much. One day we get up and the hologram is gone. More than anything to help people question something, even if only for that.

Estel·la.- I think we're going to say goodbye. Tell you once again that we have a channel on Telegram: Pleiadian Knowledge Telegram, which we have opened and there we always notify of all the direct new videos that we upload, whatever. Also, you will find the link in the description of this direct below you will see the link to the Telegram channel. See you soon
