

PLEIADIAN KNOWLEDGE

THE UNITED FEDERATION OF PLANETS

IN SATURN

PLEIADIAN
KNOWLEDGE

This information is given by women and men from the star Taygeta, in the cluster of the Pleiades. They are different conversations kept live in writing over the internet and reorganized by theme. We keep their original text without any modification.

They can be found in video format on YouTube, on the Pleiadian Knowledge channel of Cristina Álvarez and Estel·la Fernández.

Start date of the contact: 12th June 2020

Cristina: You commented that the Viera is the headquarters of the local or regional council of the Federation here, does that mean it would be like the terrestrial council? The ones that officially represent humans?

Anéeka of Temmer: Yes, that's exactly their role here. And they do not stand out for being useful, this is exactly our point and problem.

Estel·la: And who supervises or represents them?

Anéeka of Temmer: Supposedly the Federation of Saturn, which are impossible to find.

Estel·la: And who supervises those from Saturn?

Anéeka of Temmer: Supposedly another Federation Council, from a group of stars in this sector of the Galaxy. Even harder to find. I emphasize that I am not talking about the Federation in higher densities, progressively. I'm talking about people in the same density as those of the Viera. I'm only talking about politicians with more power, not densities.

It is true that in higher Densities there is also a Federation that supervises downwards, but it is more difficult to access because it is not in your "reality" or "world". Obviously, they have mechanisms so that they cannot be "reached" directly.

Estel·la: You don't know what constellation or solar system they are in?

Anéeka of Temmer: Yes, but it is impossible for me to share it at this time, not because of secrecy, but because of the impossibility of description. What happens is that the concept of "constellations" differs in space, being that only some, such as Taurus, Pleiades, Orion ... among a few others coincide with those known on Earth. This is because the constellations as you know them are viewed and assembled from Earth's point of view. The point of view here is more directly related to star map sectors, but I have no common reference. Just viewed from the explainable perspective, it is the closest set of local stars to your Sun 13, which would include Alpha Centauri, triple system, and a few others. I would need a navigation chart to be able to explain better.

Cristina: Why are those of Saturn impossible to find?

Anéeka of Temmer: Because nobody knows who they are, or where they are. They only give orders from their place above and there is no one to go to see, or who to write to. This happens not only to us, but also to the rest of the races here in our neighborhood, such as those of the Viera.

Estel·la: Have you tried going to Saturn in person?

Anéeka of Temmer: Yes, and nobody knows anything. It is a huge traffic zone, with large biosphere ships of many races. They are called many times on Earth as the Alliance of the Sphere or Sphere Alliance. Going to Saturn is like going to Los Angeles in California, good luck finding someone who doesn't want to be found there.

Cristina: And the fact that you cannot go to see or speak to them directly wouldn't it be a negative aspect of this structure?

Anéeka of Temmer: Undoubtedly. This is the point at which it can most openly be seen that the system is broken. It becomes pyramidal and not holographic.

Cristina: Too bad then.

Estel-la: And the Sphere Alliance, what role does it play in all this?

Anéeka of Temmer: It's more Federation. Let's say that the Sphere Alliance is a group like the Council of Andromeda, or the Council of Alcyone. Officially independent, however they form the Federation as well. The Federation then being such a large body that it collapses under its own weight. That is its problem, it has become worse than gigantic, and therefore unmanageable and useless.

Cristina: And do you know which races are on Saturn?

Anéeka of Temmer: The same as here, the more known, the same as always. Dominated by Andromedans, Arcturians, and Sirians. Although I clarify that not Pleiadians.

Estel-la: It seems incredible to me that the Federation of Saturn hides or camouflages itself among the other races present there, only that fact would have to remove them from their position. What kind of representation can someone do, who you can't reach to?

Anéeka of Temmer: Yes, however note that to remove them from their position, you must first know who they are and that is what they avoid with anonymity. Another point that stands out here, is that it is the same structure of the super elite of Earth, Dark Government, that only works with puppets of many levels but you can never see who has real power, since Soros, Gates, Rockefeller, Rothschild and others are only fronts for characters behind with more power.

Here it is the same with the Federation, exactly the same. That is why we insist that it is a reflection of what happens on Earth. Only orders with validation codes arrive. It does not say who, just something like: "The honorable High Council of Saturn dictates that you must withdraw from the vicinity of Earth immediately. Alpha-Whisky Bravo Certification 928167-675172." And that's it, there is no one to respond to, to whom to appeal anything.

Cristina: Wow, shocking. And what races make up the Alliance of the Sphere?

Anéeka of Temmer: Andromedans, Arcturians, Korendians, Devonians and Avians. (Cedet-Cerez Aviar.)

Cristina: Excuse me Anéeka, are Avians like birds?

Anéeka of Temmer: Yes. Basically the ones Corey Goode is talking about.

Estel·la: And what do the Andromedans or those of the Viera get from acting blind to this problem?

Anéeka of Temmer: Nothing. If you talk to them, since they are on the same level here, they will be very empathetic and concerned. They will also say that they don't see what else they can do. They accept that there is a problem but do not know how to proceed. They do not claim to be blind to the problem, they claim to be tied with their hands. And also speaking of them, what complicates everything more is that each and every race will have their ideas depending on their concepts and understanding as a race, the Andromedans being for example, very dismayed by Karma.

Estel·la: So, what is the problem according to them exactly? Because I think they are tying their own hands. If you really want to solve a problem but have no one to deal with, then have them come to you. Begin to act differently with the Earth, so that those of Saturn have to come out of the shadows if they really want to intervene.

Anéeka of Temmer: The problem is that according to them, are humans the ones who should solve it, and not them. The problem is that Yázhi agrees with this. But not as in humans must ... as a duty imposed by authority, but according to Yázhi: The problem can only be solved from the human level, from within the Earth as human beings and not from outside. She says it's the only way. It is not because other races do not want to do anything, but that they cannot do anything and only humans can.

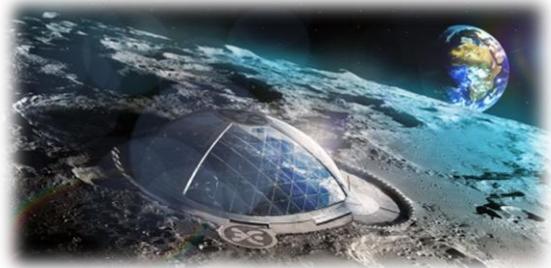

Estel·la: I understand what Yazhi says, but we are seeing that the problem is also outside.

Cristina: The problem is everywhere. And the base of Saturn, where is it located, on the planet or on the moons? Or is the position also unknown? It was 5D low density, right?

Anéeka of Temmer: We believe it is among the countless bases in the entire area. They are not IN-Saturn itself, but the bases are on the moons, such as Mimas, Titan, Enceladus, Dione, Tethis. And in the same rings mainly, that's why they like Saturn so much. Plus countless ships of all sizes in Saturnian orbit all the time.

Cristina: And what are these bases like? What structures do they have?

Anéeka of Temmer: The bases are mostly 90% underground. They are tunneled. They use asteroids and large rocks in the rings and hollow them out leaving the outer shield structure. As for large bases on moons, they are also mostly underground with entrances in craters and on mountain slopes. As for surface installations, spider-like structures dominate with a dome in the center and tubes that exit in different directions and enter underground.

Cristina: And on planet Saturn, they have nothing? Is there no one there?

Anéeka of Temmer: Saturn as a planet is too dense and at the same time gaseous without a defined surface. So only "animal" beings adapted to extreme environments live there. For most races in the Federation, it is impractical to use Saturn itself. What makes Saturn so interesting are its rings. It is a mostly rock structure that can be used for multiple things, forming a very large wealth of places to establish bases in them, resource mining, minerals and metals for industry.

Cristina: What kind of animals are there?

Anéeka of Temmer: Mostly animals that spend their entire lives floating, with the appearance of giant jellyfish. Also parasites that live in the jellyfish using them for support. There is no development of advanced civilization there, it is the animal kingdom. They are like balloon beings, or dirigible beings. They look like this image, and this big, although there are various sizes, I understand that they do measure up to the Hindenburg or the Goodyear Blimp.

Cristina: Oh how curious these animals, floating there ... I imagine that they are like fish in the water?

Anéeka of Temmer: It may be, yes. In other words, they float in the atmosphere of Saturn in an habitable zone for them, where they cannot go higher because they would spread too much or lower because the atmospheric pressure of Saturn would crush them.

Estel·la: And what do they feed on?

Anéeka of Temmer: I understand that they feed of other beings in a floating ecosystem, smaller beings, such as krill for whales. There are clouds of living organisms in the atmosphere and larger beings pass by. And the little ones that make up these clouds also make up other smaller ones.

Cristina: And there is no plant kingdom?

Anéeka of Temmer: There must be, always floating in different atmospheric strata. Although there is no surface, the pressure is so high that it exceeds a rock, but it does not come all at once, but gradually increasing the atmospheric pressure until it reaches solidity.
